

I PLAYED TILL DARK BUT EVEN THAT WASN'T ENOUGH

My favorite aspect of the game is the competition. Every night you're going up against great players and we're all competing for the same goal. To win. As a kid I played nonstop. I had a court in my backyard that I'd go out and play on every chance I got. I played till dark. But even that wasn't enough.

So I gathered up some of my friends and some kids we played with from the neighborhood. We put floodlights up around the court so we could play all night. We would play till midnight or later.

I'd play all night if I could.
